

LONG RANGE UNIVERSITY

John X Safaris in South Africa

For the first time ever, the leader in long range shooting, Gunwerks, will be hosting it's very own long range shooting school in South Africa. John X Safaris will be the host, where the hunter looking for that something new can join us for a 10 day African adventure. This will be no ordinary shooting school.....

USA - South Africa: Leaving from the USA you will fly either with Delta or South African Airways. Your point of entry into South Africa will be Johannesburg. In Johannesburg you will be met by Air 2000 Hunters Support, who will guide you through the entire customs process ensuring your guns and luggage transfer to the Port Elizabeth connection flight is a hassle free experience. Please check with Air 2000 at the time of your safari what the rates will be for their service. Contact Air 2000 Hunters Support on Air2000@global.co.za. From Johannesburg you will board a short commercial connection (1 hr 40 min) on South African Airways to Port Elizabeth, where you will be met by John X Safaris. Please note that South African Airways is the ONLY registered carrier to carry rifles domestically within South Africa. Port Elizabeth to base camp is a mere 1hr drive.

DAY 1

You and your buddy, sharing a one suite chalet(cabin) will be woken for a early morning cup of steaming African Coffee. After a quick bite on a continental breakfast you will head out on a morning game drive. This will give you the opportunity to view the Big 5 and Plains Game up close and personal on an open game viewing land cruiser. You'll be back at the lodge by 11.00 for a scrumptious brunch. After brunch, shooting school classes will begin and run for the remainder of the day. Topics covered include:

- Terminal Ballistics and Bullet Performance
- External Ballistics and Trajectory Validation
- Ballistic Compensation Techniques
- Long Range Shooting Equipment
- Cartridge/Ammunition Selection
- Shooting Fundamentals
- Range Shooting Basics
- Rifle Cleaning and Maintenance

DAY 2

Gunwerks will continue on their shooting school with classes and practical, heading out to the range to put you and your rifle to the test, the fun now really begins! Life size African trophy targets is just the start to your African adventure! The balance of the course material and shooting covers the following topics:

Range-finding, Errors and Equipment
Wind Deflection, Reducing and Reading
Correcting for Air Density Changes
Measuring and Correcting for Shot Angle
Exploring Spin Drift and Coriolis
Shot Placement
Advanced/Field Shooting

DAY 3

Gunwerks will continue on their long range training with practical field application of your training and techniques. You will be heading out to the field during the day to put the theory and practical of the previous 2 days to the test, giving each hunter the opportunity to harvest one cull animal. The choice of cull animal may vary between Impala, Blesbuck or Warthog. We will wrap the day with Q&A and discussion of the days events.

DAY 4 - 8

You've now learnt about your Gunwerks shooting system, you've put the theory to the test on the range and in the field, it's time for you to start your hunt with John X Safaris. At this point depending on your request prior to the safari you will either pair up with a buddy and a Professional hunter, hunting 2x1 or 1x1. You will hunt from John X Safaris Coastal area for another day or two, depending on your species of preference. For those hunters choosing a number of species from our Northern areas (see attached rate sheet and ledger) you will travel and stay in either of our northern areas (3-4 hours from base camp on the coast) for a minimum of two nights, depending on what you're hunting and how the hunt is going. Time frames and trophy "wish lists" are mere guidelines for John X Safaris to plan your hunt on, neither are set in stone.

DAY 9-10

Having enjoyed John X Safaris Northern Areas, you will start heading back to John X Safaris base camp on the coast for the remainder of your safari. Hunters can enjoy their last few days of their safari either hunting any remaining species they may not have hunted yet, or spend a day game driving, or taking part in the many tourist activities in the surrounding area (Elephant back safaris, deep sea fishing, golfing, curio shopping etc.).

On the last day of the safari or the morning of the day of departure, depending on how the hunt is going (hunters can hunt until dark on day 10), the final bill, permits and documentation will be completed and settled.

John X Safaris will then transfer you to Port Elizabeth Airport for the start of your journey home.

Please note any hunters wanting to extend their time in South Africa, by touring or sightseeing can do so without any hassle. John x Safaris together with Free Walker Adventures can assist with regards tours, information and attractions that may be of interest after your safari has been completed. Trips down the Garden Route, Port Elizabeth to Cape Town, are the most popular and certainly something to look into for those wanting to extend their stay in South Africa.

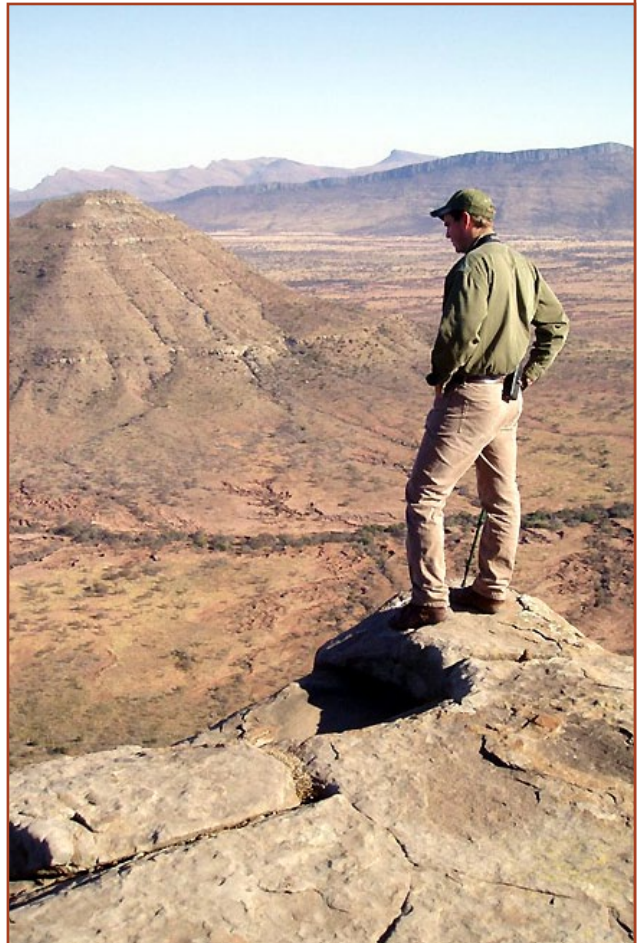

South Africa – USA: Leaving from Port Elizabeth, after a John X Safaris representative has checked both you and your rifles onto the Johannesburg connecting flight, you will once again be met by Air 2000 Hunters Support in Johannesburg. They will once again assist you with your rifles and luggage, ensuring you are set and on your way back to the USA.

HUNTING WITH JOHN X SAFARIS – Why the need for 3 different camps in three different regions within the Eastern Cape, South Africa?

South Africa is one of the most exciting countries in the world to hunt. It offers a diverse combination of landscapes, vegetation and wildlife, together making this country a unique destination for the hunter to Africa.

The Eastern Cape and Karoo, both Malaria free areas, offer the finest hunting with over 40 species available. This is more than anywhere else in Africa.

We exclusively hunt on a wide range of terrain that spans over vast semi-arid desert, dense coastal bush, mountains and open savannah. We have access to over 3 million acres of privately owned land and game reserves, including over 700,000 acres of open land for free ranging animals, bearing forth the high standards in trophy quality. With so much variety in species, considering they all occur in a variety of habitats, John X Safaris has felt the need to establish 3 camps within the 3 main biomes of the East Cape. Namely:

Coastal Area – Coastal forests and Bush – Base Camp SLEEPS 16 in 8 Chalets (There is more accommodation for PH’s and Gunwerks staff over and above the 8 rooms.)

Eastern Mountainous Area - Savannah and Mountains – SLEEPS 12 in 5 Rooms (There is more accommodation for PH’s and Gunwerks staff over and above the 5 rooms.)

Northern Area – Desert (Karoo) and Mountains –2 Camps: Camp 1. Glenharry SLEEPS 6 in 3 Rooms. Camp 2. Neil’s Camp SLEEPS 5 in 2 Rooms (There is more accommodation for PH’s and Gunwerks staff over and above the mentioned rooms.)

These 3 areas and camps allow our hunters the opportunity to hunt a large variety of species on 3 million+ acres of concessions, ensuring the highest standard of trophies throughout.

TAXIDERMY

All trophies harvested on your safari will be field prepped and tagged by John X Safaris, and pooled back at base camp at the end of your safari. From here they will be transported to Splitting Image Taxidermy (15 min from Base Camp) where the hunters can choose to either mount or dip and ship his/her trophies to their final destination.

RATES

Gunwerks Shooting School	$1,500, Long Range Shooting System Discount of $500 if purchased with Shooting School.
John X Safaris	John X Daily Rate Per Person for the first 2 Training Days @ $200 per Day - Excl 14% Tax. John X Daily Rate for the next 8 Hunting Days @ $300 (2x1) OR @ $400 (1x1) per Day - Excl 14% Tax.
Dates	July 30 - August 8, August 9 - August 18.
Contact	Gunwerks: 877-486-9375 John X Safaris: +27 (0) 82 700 98 66